

To: Larry Visoski Larry [REDACTED]
From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Mon 8/26/2013 10:10:36 PM
Subject: Fwd: save the date

Here is the email for the invite to Eastover Farm...I think if you click on the link in text you may be able to find address somewhere?

See:<http://www.edge.org/events/eastover-farm-meetings>

Begin forwarded message:

From: John Brockman <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Fwd: save the date
Date: August 23, 2013 1:29:24 PM EDT
To: Jeffrey Epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>
Cc: [REDACTED]

JE,

In car to airport. ON cell. About to call you. Here's the list to date, and below is the plan.

JB
[REDACTED]

CONFIRMED

Nicholas Christakis
Daniel Dennett
Jennifer Jacquet
Danny Kahneman
Joshua Knobe
Rob Kurzban
David Pizarro
Anne Treisman

John Brockman
Katinka Matson
Max Brockman

REGRETS

Adam Alter
Paul Bloom
Rodney Brooks
Dan Gilbert

Jonathan Haidt
Eldar Safir

AWAITING RESPONSE

Mahzarin Banaji
Rebecca Goldstein
Joshua Greene
Joe Henrich
Joe LeDoux
Sendhil Mullainathan
Michael Norton
Liz Phelps
Steven Pinker
Laurie Santos
Philip Tetlock

Dear xxx,,

Danny Kahneman and Anne Treisman will be our houseguests at Eastover Farm in Bethlehem, CT the Friday September 6- Saturday, Septmeber 7th, and I want to plan something entertaining and interesting.

I have in mind a rehearsal, or dry run, for a possible annual event which would be a weekend that focuses on state of art of what the social sciences have to tell us about human nature in the past year or two. For want of something more serious, it's "THE HEAD CONFERENCE" or "HEADCON". We would host a couple of dinners Fri and Sat nights, and on Saturday, a day of hanging out at the Farm. During those periods, there would be a series of talks by the invited guests. EDGE would pick up hotel room charges and transportation expenses.

Some background: In 1992, when the physicist George Smoot announced his findings from the COBE satellite regarding cosmic background radiation and the beginning of time, I left a message on the voicemail of the late, great Sidney Coleman of Harvard : "Sidney, I hear there's something new in the Universe. What is it?. And what's in it for me?" The message went viral after Sidney posted it on the electronic bulletin board of the physics community.

My question was inspired by an annual event in Italy for leading physicists where Sidney gave the keynote talk. The topic of his lecture was essentially "What's new in the Universe?" Sidney would detail the advances and developments in the past year or two across many areas of physics.

In this case, I would be asking you, and the other guests, to give a half hour talk responding to a similar question:

"What's new in your field of social science in the last year or two, and why should I care?
Why do I want or need to know about it and how does it change my view of human nature?"

I would ask you to focus broadly and address the major developments in your entire field (including but not at all limited to your own research agenda). It would have to be new, fresh, and original: an up-to-date field report on your area of social science.
This talk should be, to the extent possible, conversational, and not a canned Power-Point or slide-driven conference talk. We would videotape the entire event and present the videos and texts as an EDGE Special Event.

For this dry run, on September 6 & 7, we're focusing on one day, replicating the usual Edge Events at Eastover Farm. See:http://www.edge.org/events/eastover-farmmeetings

To date, the following are confirmed. Awaiting word from a number of others:

Nicholas Christakis

http://edge.org/memberbio/nicholas_a_christakis

Daniel Dennett

http://www.edge.org/memberbio/daniel_c_dennett

Jennifer Jacquet

http://www.edge.org/memberbio/jennifer_jacquet

Danny Kahneman

http://www.edge.org/memberbio/daniel_kahneman

Joshua Knobe

http://www.edge.org/memberbio/joshua_knobe

Rob Kurzban

http://www.edge.org/memberbio/rob_kurzban

David Pizarro

http://www.edge.org/memberbio/david_pizarro

Anne Treisman

http://www.edge.org/memberbio/anne_treisman

FRIDAY

4:00-5:00pm arrive at Eastover Farm

6:30pm Dinner at Woodward House (2 miles away)

SATURDAY

Talks - Lunch - and hanging out at farm

5:30 ends.

6:00 Early casual dinner at Good Enough to Eat, a restaurant on way to the highway.

People can get back to Boston or NY by 10pm.

Please advise if you can attend. EDGE will pick up your transportation costs and room charges at a nearby hotel for Friday night.

Best,

JB

~~

John Brockman

[REDACTED] Mobile

~~~~~
President

Edge Foundation, Inc.

[REDACTED]
tel: [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
fax: [REDACTED]

~~~~~
Visit EDGE at: <http://www.edge.org>